The conflicts which he encoun war were nothing, as compared with his conflict with disease since. The hardships of army life left him physical wreck.

Sciatic rheumatism developed. For years he doctored and spent hun dreds of dollars without obtaining relief.

Three years ago his limbs became paralyzed and he was unable to walk. He got about only by dragging himself from place to place by his arms. It was no trick to run a common darning needle into the muscles of his limbs with out feeling the slightest sensation. Physicians gave him no relief. He believed that he would never Carnegle for Bryan. Andrew Carnegie is beginning to talk like a Bryanite. The Bryanism that appeals to him is not the financial kind, but the new anti-expansion heresy. Mr. Carnegie said recently that he believed Bryan to be the man that would save the country from the dangers of imperialism. Carnegie has been an anti-imperialist for some time. He has contributed ponderous and pompous articles to the magazines in opposition to the acquis tion of territory. That was a little inconsistent in view of his own practice in the way of expansion. He was something of a colonizer himself when he bougut a castle and an estate in Scotland and settled there.

Bryan, as a presidential candidat supported by Carnegie would certainly not be pleasing to Bryan's old friends in the popocratic party. Carnegie has been of much service indirectly as a black beast ready-made for pupulist orators to lencuace. He has been abused by them many times for holding up the govern ment for $400 a ton for armor plate, and then accused of filling up the inside of the armor with wind.

The Papers of the World.

A statistician has learned that the an nual aggregate circulation of the paper of the world is calculated to be 12,000. 000,000 copies. To grasp any idea of this magnitude, we may state that it would cover no fewer than 10,450 square miles of surface; that it is printed on 781,250 tons of paper; and further, that if the number, 12,000,000,000, represented, instead of copies seconds, it would take over 333 years for them to elapse. Now, they want to perpetuate the old and inadequate organization, forgetting the advice of Washington, "In time of peace, prepare for war."
